VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

Shannon MacLean, Natasha

McIsaac, Erin Breen Harris, Lisa McCully

VBS is gearing up for an awesome year! Shannon MacLean is coordinating the team, while Erin Breen Harris is director of the Preschool Group, Grades Primary to 4 will be led by Natasha McIsaac and Lisa McCully will look after the Grade 5&6 Annex Youth Group. It's going to be a fabulous week of building relationships, and exploring our faith story through drama, crafts, science, snacks and games!

MORNINGSIDE

Michael Mugford

Michael, his partner Tamara, their children Jonathan, Joshua and Anna, and dog Lucy have been attending Berwick Camp for over 10 years. Michael, who currently serves the Kingston Pastoral Charge in Nova Scotia's Annapolis Valley, looks forward to leading the Morningside Services at this year's camp.

LEADERSHIP TEAM

Worship Coordinators: Rev. Maryann Skinner & Moses Kang

YOUTH

Ruth Noble & Kim Curlett; Bethe Benjamin Cameron & Keith Gale

The youth team is gearing up for another faith filled - fun filled camp! This year the youth will be divided into two groups. Grades 7-9 led by Ruth Noble and Kim Curlett and grades 10-12 Led by Bethe Benjamin Cameron and Keith Gale. Having two groups will allow for more in depth and age relatable activities. As always both groups will explore faith through music, prayer, creative expression, outreach and fun! It's going to be a fantastic year!

THEOLOGY FOR TODAY

Marie Wilson & Russ Daye

Drawing on the many lessons of Canada's Truth and Reconciliation Commission on Indian Residential Schools, as well as other reconciliation initiatives, Marie and Russ will help us imagine how we might live into 'all our relations' with truth, hope, and courage in this time. Some of our time will be spent exploring history, theology, and wisdom traditions. We will also follow the norms of talking circles to enter into deep small-group conversations seeking wisdom that we can take home to ground and expand our webs of relations.

Marie Wilson, was one of the three commissioners for the Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada, between 2009 and 2015. She worked as journalist for many years for CBC North. She is a member of Yellowknife United Church.

Russ Daye, Minister, St. Andrew's United Church, Halifax, N.S., has studied or worked on national reconciliation initiatives in Africa, the South Pacific, and Canada for almost two decades. His Ph.D. dissertation examined political forgiveness through the lens of South Africa's TRC. He worked as a consultant for the Government of Fiji, and co-chaired the United Church's Living into Right Relations Task Group.

MUSIC

Lloyd MacLean, Kate MacLean, Curt Murphy

Lloyd MacLean, who has been involved in Berwick Camp music leadership for almost 10 years, brings his wife Gwen, Kate MacLean and Curtis Murphy into the music leadership this year. Kate and Curtis are both based in Toronto and are fulltime musicians. Kate teaches, plays as a freelance drummer, keyboardist and backing vocalist for multiple artists, writes and records her own music and more, while Curtis is a freelance bass player and audio engineer, comfortable in many genres ranging anywhere from country music to traditional jazz.
